

Western New York Energy Fair Scheduled for Electric & Gas Customers

(January 8, 2007) Williamsville, New York: The New York State Public Service Commission (PSC) is participating with National Grid and National Fuel to sponsor the Western New York Energy Fair from 1 - 7 p.m. on Wednesday January 10, 2007.

To be located at the Holiday Inn on 1881 Niagara Fall Blvd., Amherst, N.Y., the Western New York Energy Fair will provide electric and natural gas utility customers an opportunity to learn about their options for purchasing energy supplies. Representatives from energy service companies (ESCOs) will be in attendance to offer information and enroll customers in the programs being offered. In addition, representatives from the PSC, National Grid and National Fuel will also be available to answer questions.

The Energy Fair is a free event and no advance registration is required. More information is available about the Energy Fair by calling the PSC's offices at 518-474-1540.
